

THE VETERANS.

The Boys in Blue Occupy the National Capital,
Which is Turned Over to Them in All Its Glory.

The Place of the Brass Bands, the Notes of the Fife, the Tap of the Big Drums, and the Bugle are Tumultuous Sounds.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The boys in blue took full possession of the national capital Sunday and the regular inhabitants took a back seat.

A large number of the regiments, rows of brass buttons and a soft hat ornamented with a gilt cord and a G. A. R. badge, is the prevailing style in fall fashions in the city. Many of the many hundreds of members of the bands, who were already paraded, are further embellished with ladies. Many of the wives and daughters of the soldiers, and possibly some of their sisters and their cousins and their aunts, have taken advantage of the time to get together to see the most beautiful city in the world. The place of the brass bands, the shrill notes of the fife, the tap of the drum and the inspiring calls of the bugle are common sounds.

Grand Army Place, as the famous old "square" is now called, is to be occupied officially, is, of course, the great object of interest. Nothing more beautiful and picturesque can be imagined than the appearance it presents to-day, with its host of tents, its marchioness and her attendants, and its numerous and varied surroundings, the long, black man-of-war Kearsarge, with tapering masts, furled sail, and grinning canon.

The Kearsarge is one of the greatest objects of attraction to the veterans. She is now practically completed, and will be put in commission Monday, fully officered and manned. When Maj. W. H. Michael proposed his plan no one supposed that the contemplated warship, an exact model of the Kearsarge, but which was destined for what she had to do, and the query was, how did he do it? Maj. Michael has a friend in Senator Manderson, who knew what that gentleman had accomplished in the same line in the state.

The movement is on south of the White lot, and separated from it by a roadway. Here are the barracks—a series of long, wide and low temporary buildings, covering an acre or two of ground. These are of canvas and the rods are bamboo. They are to accommodate more than 30,000 men. The bunks are in three tiers. Each one is about two feet wide and six and a half feet long. A bed is strong of muscle or can stand upright when raised to its frame work, and is raised at the end in lieu of a pillow. This is the veteran's bed, he supplying his own blanket.

Thousands of visitors will be given accommodations in public buildings, sleeping on mattresses laid on the floors.

A great many Ohio men will sleep in school buildings in the southeast section of the city.

Near the barracks is an immense dining hall, a long, low building, with a capacity for 3,000 persons. Its recovery is doubtful.

Thus morning the Southern Feed Company sold to a Frankfort syndicate the right to manufacture fuel in that city for $1,000.

Jacobi Johnson of this city, through his attorney, M. C. Hotchkin, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from April 1.

Appleton, Wis., Oct. 19.—The price to see Haystack and Ten Broek and gallery 25 cents, Beatty 50 cents, Dress Circle 60 cents and Parquet 15 cents.

JACOB STEIGERMAN, a prominent citizen of Campbell county, died at Newport leaving a handsome fortune to his wife.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

This morning the Southern Feed Company sold to a Frankfort syndicate the right to manufacture fuel in that city for $1,000.

JACOB JOHNSON of this city, through his attorney, M. C. Hotchkin, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from April 1.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

ANOTHER eight o'clock last night a couple of horses attached to a carriage became frightened in Third and Market and in broad daylight was the only damage.

THE decomposed body of an aged negro was found in a cornfield near New Haven. His name was James Jackson and he is supposed to have died in a fit.

ANOTHER Democratic barbecue was held at Clinton Friday. Speeches were made by Judge Lindsay and Congressman McKenzie. About 5,000 people were present.

There is a report that the so-called Kentucky Pad is to become a Kenneky institution in fact as well as name, for the honor of Kenneky Journalism, we hope not.

THE health authorities of Covington, as a preventative of cholera, have ordered the grass out of the streets. Go slow, go slow, as the disease rarely prevails in agricultural districts.

THE one hundredth anniversary of the Bates Creek Baptist Association will be celebrated next year by the meeting of the Association with the Bates Creek Church in Madison county.

REMEMBER THE LURKING prints "Help Wanted" and similar notices, and similar notices not a lumber company, for instance, the price of charge. The only thing we require is that the copy be sent in before it's o'clock in the day of publication.

FRANK TURNER, the Garrard county court, will except two days for the third and fourth, and no legal process was married to Miss Isabelle Walker of Lancaster at Crab Orchard. The happy couple left for Tennessee.

MISS LUCY LEE HILL of Lexington was a widow and owner of horses when she was born a lassie. She is getting to communicate with her, as she is getting up a collection of those valuable trophies for the World's Fair.

THOMAS WEILK, Cashier of the First National Bank, who returned Saturday evening, Oct. 19, to find that the Harris Fuel Gas Plant is now in operation there, and that he saw ten thousand feet of gas produced in ten minutes.

MARY LUCILLE WALKER, daughter of a prominent citizen of Lexington, collapsed in the arms of Captain Kepner, who have been doing their best to arrest the outlaw, Frank Turner. She captured him with a matrimonial net, and the pair fled away to Tennessee.

WILLIAM GUR and William L. Davison, while working on a house near Concord, were badly shaken up by the fall of a scaffold. Mr. Gur is able to walk with the aid of a cane, but Mr. Davison, before Mr. Davison gets the knapsack off his neck, it was fortunate that the injuries were not more serious.

W.H. Not Retired.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Metropolitan opera-house stockholders have decided not to rebuild, and will sell the property at auction.

PUBLIC LEDGER

FIRST YEAR.

Personal Points

"If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect."

Dan D. Buly of Washington, D. C., is in the city.

Mrs. A. B. Greenwood is visiting friends in Cincinnati.

Miss Luis Burt is visiting her uncle, D. B. Best, at Covington.

John Burns of Chicago is spending a few days with friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wells returned Saturday from Washington City.

Miss Jessie Peet is visiting her grandfather, Major A. M. Peet, at Shadyside, Pittsburgh.

J. B. Orr came down yesterday from Portsmouth to visit his family and attend the funeral of Captain James Heflin.

Miss Lucy Rowland, just from a three months sojourn in Europe, passed down on the C. & O. last evening to her home in Avondale.

Misses Nellie Means, Ella Stockdale, Anna Thomas, Alta Stockdale, Anna Means and Florence Thorne sat Saturday in Cincinnati.

Louise, last night, to the wife of Louie Kline, won weight ten pounds.

THERE were four additions to the Central Presbyterian Church yesterday.

The residence of J. W. Woodson at Undas was destroyed by fire. Loss, $1,500.

DON'T miss the Nahabs at Washington House Tuesday evening, September 20th.

A DEMOCRATIC barbecue at Walton, Boone county, was attended by 5,000 people. Prominent Democrats spoke.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

THIS morning the Southern Feed Company sold to a Frankfort syndicate the right to manufacture fuel in that city for $1,000.

JACOB JOHNSON of this city, through his attorney, M. C. Hotchkin, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from April 1.

Appleton, Wis., Oct. 19.—The price to see Haystack and Ten Broek and gallery 25 cents, Beatty 50 cents, Dress Circle 60 cents and Parquet 15 cents.

JACOB STEIGERMAN, a prominent citizen of Campbell county, died at Newport leaving a handsome fortune to his wife.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

ANOTHER eight o'clock last night a couple of horses attached to a carriage became frightened in Third and Market and in broad daylight was the only damage.

THE decomposed body of an aged negro was found in a cornfield near New Haven. His name was James Jackson and he is supposed to have died in a fit.

JACOB JOHNSON of this city, through his attorney, M. C. Hotchkin, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from April 1.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

ANOTHER eight o'clock last night a couple of horses attached to a carriage became frightened in Third and Market and in broad daylight was the only damage.

THE decomposed body of an aged negro was found in a cornfield near New Haven. His name was James Jackson and he is supposed to have died in a fit.

JACOB JOHNSON of this city, through his attorney, M. C. Hotchkin, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from April 1.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

ANOTHER eight o'clock last night a couple of horses attached to a carriage became frightened in Third and Market and in broad daylight was the only damage.

THE decomposed body of an aged negro was found in a cornfield near New Haven. His name was James Jackson and he is supposed to have died in a fit.

JACOB JOHNSON of this city, through his attorney, M. C. Hotchkin, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from April 1.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

ANOTHER eight o'clock last night a couple of horses attached to a carriage became frightened in Third and Market and in broad daylight was the only damage.

THE decomposed body of an aged negro was found in a cornfield near New Haven. His name was James Jackson and he is supposed to have died in a fit.

JACOB JOHNSON of this city, through his attorney, M. C. Hotchkin, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from April 1.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

ANOTHER eight o'clock last night a couple of horses attached to a carriage became frightened in Third and Market and in broad daylight was the only damage.

THE decomposed body of an aged negro was found in a cornfield near New Haven. His name was James Jackson and he is supposed to have died in a fit.

JACOB JOHNSON of this city, through his attorney, M. C. Hotchkin, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from April 1.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

ANOTHER eight o'clock last night a couple of horses attached to a carriage became frightened in Third and Market and in broad daylight was the only damage.

THE decomposed body of an aged negro was found in a cornfield near New Haven. His name was James Jackson and he is supposed to have died in a fit.

JACOB JOHNSON of this city, through his attorney, M. C. Hotchkin, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from April 1.

THOMAS NIPPER, aged 14, attended the same school as his father, and was fond of mushrooms. His recovery is doubtful.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1892.

KENTUCKY WEATHER REPORT.

WHAT We May Expect Between This Time and To-morrow Evening.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White streaks—FAIR; Blue—MAYBE; Snow; If Black above—TWILL; Warmer; If Black beneath—Colder; Twill be.

Unless Black is shown, no change we'll see.

FAIR. The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 8 o'clock.

THE SONG OF THE BIRD.

Statesmen may state, and poets sing
The pleasures of the man of toil;

The actual monarch of the soil;

Who is the master of the field;

Who is the owner of the sheep,

Who is the master of the swine;

Who is the master of the oxen;

Who is the master of the horse;

Who is the master of the dog;

Who is the master of the cat;

Who is the master of the bird;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

Who is the master of the wasp;

Who is the master of the fly;

Who is the master of the worm;

Who is the master of the ant;

Who is the master of the bee;

WHAT THE EDITOR SAYS

Public Ledger

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY, BY THE PUBLIC LEDGER.

WILLIAM H. COX,
President

THOMAS A. DAVIS,
Vice-President

WILLIAM H. WADSWORTH, Jr.,
Editor and Manager

THOMAS A. DAVIS,
Secretary and Treasurer

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

WILLIAM H. COX, M. C. RUMSEY,
A. M. J. COCHRAN, W. H. WADSWORTH, Jr.,
THOMAS A. DAVIS.

OFFICE—Public Ledger Building, No. 10 East

Third Street.

SUBSCRIPTIONS—IN ADVANCE.

One Year..... $3.00

Six Months..... 1.50

Three Months..... .75

DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

For Month..... 5 cents

payable to carrier at end of month.

TO ADVERTISERS.

Advertising rates uniform and reasonable and made known on application at the office.

IN HOC SIGNO VINCES.

A Word to Republicans.

The hope of the party lies in the expansion of its ranks. Republicans must work for the Republicans who remain or otherwise help to support our own party newspaper is untrue to the Republicans cause.

Unanimously supported by the National Republican League.

J. S. CLARKSON, President.

A. B. HUMPHREY, Secretary.

The President's proclamation is a Protective Tariff on chicle.

Some ingenuous campaign button-maker could assure himself a fortune by a device of a "shipmaster" for Democratic patriots of war.

"Chile" has been asked to visit "Steve" at Bloomington, Ill. The great struggle to carry Bazaar's Bay at Bloomington shows no signs of relaxation.

The Canadian position was that they had no right to discriminate against American traffic through the Welland Canal, but it was not convenient to stop doing so until next season.

The Democratic Legislatures which enacted gerrymanders in Michigan, Wisconsin and New York were apparently believers in the celebrated sentiment expressed by the Hon. TIMOTHY J. CAMPBELL of New York: "The Constitution don't cut no figure."

It is said, on excellent British Free-trade authority, that GROVER CLEVELAND has given certain assurances to become a candidate in New York state as to the course which he would pursue in the event of his election to the Presidency.

According to an uncontradicted statement, which there is every reason to believe, CLEVELAND has promised to be guided in New York affairs by Messrs. CRONIN and SHEPPARD.

Exactly in what form CLEVELAND has given this pledge we do not assume to know. If verbally it is worthless, and in giving it, whether verbally or in writing, he has stamped himself as unworthy of the support of honorable citizens. But, even in writing, would the pledge be carried out?

In his letter of acceptance in 1881 GROVER CLEVELAND, over his signature, bound himself clearly, definitely and emphatically against being a candidate for a second term. No political promise or engagement could have been made with more solemnity or publicity. Yet that promise was forgotten and ignored. Of course he had a right to run for a second term if he saw fit. The Republican party, which re-elected LINCOLN and GRANT and proposes to re-elect HARRISON, is not opposed to a second term for a faithful and capable Chief Magistrate, although decidedly opposed to it for such a President as GROVER CLEVELAND. We simply call attention to the fact that in this respect GROVER CLEVELAND violated a solemn and deliberate promise.

Mr. CLEVELAND's record does not inspire confidence in his pledges. Tammany's treachery has passed into a proverb. Neither party to the recent agreement can afford to trust the other.

The reduction by the Democratic House by nearly one-half of the appropriation to prevent the spread of contagion diseases is seriously embarrassing the Treasury Department, by making it difficult to undertake work on a greater scale than the funds in which it is now limited allow. The Secretary, however, intends to authorize every expenditure found to be necessary, and will find some way to pay the expense. What makes the matter utterly inexcusable is the part of the House is the fact that notice had been received by the Western World that cholera was on its march from Asia when the appropriation was reduced.

Such a very short-sighted policy was adopted in regard to the city of Washington. The appropriations for the Health Department were cut so low that it is now impossible to give the city such a cleaning as it needs to put the seat of the Government in proper condition to resist the plague. The Health Office itself utterly helpless in the present emergency.

It is bad enough to fail to provide means to guard against contagion at any point, but it is a monstrous oversight to neglect the national capital, since, in case of visitation of cholera, the suffering and death would be not only personal to those who might be victims and to their friends, but the whole machinery of the public business would be unavoidably deranged. There may be a very serious side to this chapter of Democratic economy.

GENERAL FRANCIS A. WALKER, after hearing WILLIAM DUDLEY of Indiana "infer" that President HARRISON had "grossly and intentionally violated all CIVIL SERVICE RE-PRINCIPLES OF CIVIL FORM COMPLIMENTS SERVICE REFORM," has declared that he will vote for CLEVE-LAND, "for he is better than his party." How the short-hairled Democracy must hate these words, even as they hate civil service reform itself, says The New York Press.

But there is a good deal of difference between Mr. FOULKE's ultra philistine and the concessions which two other great Cleveland Maynights have made to President HARRISON's civil service reform results. She report of the Committee on Resolutions of the National Civil Service Reform League, read by its probable author, the Hon. CARL SCHURZ, before the meeting of that organization at Baltimore last April, declared that President HARRISON had appointed an "admirable CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION" which had enforced the requirements of the law that it had "awakened in the Southern states interest in its honest administration." That the president had some apprehension of reform and that "much had been accomplished for reform by the action of the Secretary of the Navy during this administration" and LUCAS B. SWIFT of Indiana a week later, as reported in The Evening Post, said: "Civil service reform has made greater progress during the last three years than ever before, and in the execution of the law there has been nothing before to compare with it."

General WALKER, being a candid man, will doubtless find as much difference between FOULKE on the one hand and SCHURZ and SWIFT on the other as he can find between GROVER CLEVELAND's plauditorious denials that the Tariff increases wages and his own admission ("Political Economy," advanced course, section 263) that protective duties "tend to create and maintain high rates of wages in the factory industries."

There are indications going to show that the "Complete Letter-writer" has been completed.

The thread with which the Free-trade destruction of the Democratic platform is viewed by the wise heads of that party is seen in the diligent efforts being made by many Democratic newspapers to pervert this utterance into a moderate Protective Tariff—any Tariff that yields ineffectual protection and unconstitutional.

To the Public:

NOTWITHSTANDING THIS REPORT, I am fully informed by this notice that a sanitary inspection of every residence and property within the city of Mayfield, Ky., has been suspended.

Any complaints of nuisances must be made to the City Physician in writing. No attention will be paid to anonymous communications.

C. C. OWENS,
City Physician.

Her Guidance Will Be Valued.

—
that any disease known to me Mrs. Hattie Mason of Chillicothe, Ohio, in speaking of Chillicothe's College and Diaperian Hospital. This hospital is the largest in the country, and is open even in the most severe and dangerous cases, both for children and adults. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

MIXED METAPHORS.

An Example of Gross Errors, Ancient and Modern.

Almost everyone who writes many sentences even in a familiar and simple style may commit certain flagrant errors in his use of words in a metaphorical sense; it is habitual and instinctive to make use of words in a metaphorical sense; that is, to set forth a thought and make plain a meaning by bringing in a sensible object or suggesting a visible object to represent an intangible to the youth's companion.

Often we become so thoroughly accustomed to the use of words in its metaphorical sense that we forget that it has a separate or material meaning apart from the use of speech, and when we form this we are in danger of "missing our metaphor."

When Sir Boyle Roche made his famous speech, "I smell a rat, I see him floating in the air; but mark me, sir, I will not hint in this place that ideas were born in me when I lost sight of rats and birds in the thoughts that was in his mind. If the reader also could lose sight of them this passage might appear eloquent. But they obtrude themselves very humorously upon the mind."

The following was the peroration of an orator at a political meeting not long ago:

"The time has come when we must leave off voting for ornamental principalities to vote to put bread and butter in our pockets."

A scarcely less mixed up series of metaphors than Sir Boyle's was recently employed by a newspaper in an American city. Several aldermen had been accused of accepting bribe and the newspapers said with reference to the affair:

"It is reasonable to expect that such of his associates as are innocent of such a crime will leave no stone unturned to purge themselves of all suspicion and exhaust every expedient to smoke the rascals out!"

AN AMUSING EXPERIMENT.

Experiments Naval Engagement Imitated By Means of Chalk and Vinegar.

An amusing experiment of a illusory naval battle can be made with white chalk and the ordinary table vinegar.

Take a piece of chalk and draw a ship on the resemblance of ships, planning the bottom evenly, and using matches for masts, smokestacks and turrets.

The rival forces can distinguish by coloring the enemy's ship with ink.

Then lay the chalk in a pan or plate close to an imaginary dividing line, pour a good quantity of vinegar between the chalk sticks. Instantly you will hear an audible clicking, like the noise of ships in action, while the ships as if sailing in stormy weather will begin to move forward in slow revolutions, leaping behind them streaks of foam such as are observed in the wake of moving vessels. When meeting at the dividing line they will have attained a sufficient speed to knock each other off and dash together in the endeavor to push one another furthest from the dividing line. The engagement often proves an exciting one. Of course the side has won which has the largest number of ships nearest the center after the affair.

The chemical solution of this seeming mystery is quite simple, explain Harpers' Young People. Chalk, being largely carbon, combines with the acid of the vinegar in carbonic acid, the latter being decomposed into carbon dioxide and most mineral waters. This causes rise to the surface of the vinegar in small bubbles of sufficient strength to cause the current which turns the chalk.

Since the patriotic youth will want to see the American boats win, it will be well for them to remember that the best way to do this is to paint the chalk containing the largest proportion of carbon. It will also prove of advantage to plane the chalk carefully, so as to permit it to glide easily.

HOW ANIMALS BEAR PAIN.

The Most and Least Sensitive of the Lower Orders When Wounded.

One of the most pathetic things, says the Yankee blade, is the way in which the animal kingdom endures suffering.

The horse, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

The dog will carry a broken leg for days wistfully and uncomplainingly.

The cat, striken with a stick or stone or caught in some trap from which it cannot extricate itself, will remain silent to the touch, and even to the touch of fire.

The rabbit, for instance, in battle after the first shock of the wound they make no sound.

They bear the pain with a mute, wondering endurance, and if at night you hear a wild groan from the battlefield, it comes from their loneliness, their loss of home, their surroundings, which seems absolutely indispensable to the comfort of domesticated animals.

OUR DAILY MAIL

The Editor of THE LEDGER is not responsible for the opinions expressed by Correspondents but declines responsibility upon the character or safety of any person will be admitted to these columns.

Our Correspondents will please send Letters to us through our office later than 5 p.m. on Friday, giving facts in as few words as possible. We send news in this department, and not advertising notices or political trumpery.

OUR AGENTS. The following are authorized Agents for THE PUBLIC LEADER in their respective localities:

Maryland—Matthew Hoffman.
Maryland—John C. Miller.
Missouri—Frank W. Hawes.
Michigan—W. G. Grimes.
Oregon—C. C. Deacon.
Washington—J. H. Foster.
Vincennes—Mrs. Jessie Stewart.
All the West—W. W. Morris.
Augusta—Leander Tully.
Peek—Joseph Tully.

Subscribers may receive a transcript of letters writing by paying their subscriptions to the Agent at their place.

ORANGE COUNTY.

M. R. Tully returned home last week from the old Baptist Association and reports a splendid time.

Perry Branch and sister of Millbrook spent Sunday with relatives at this place.

Schools opened here last week. Professor Wilson was Principal and Miss Lizzie Davis as Assistant.

The meeting at the Christian Church is still going on. There have been very few admissions as yet, but large crowds are attending.

Alfred Redman and wife and step daughter of Captain Treck spent Sunday with the family of Henry Lamm of this place.

The tobacco is about all housed around here and corn cutting and seedling will soon commence.

A. M. PEER of Bath county has begun to cut corn.

It is said that the Bonham Fair cleared $3,000.

SHARPSBURG has been made a Money-Order Postoffice.

During the last morning year there died in Louisville 3,000 people.

COLONEL JO. A. ALEXANDER will open a new hotel in Louisville on September 25th.

RUDOLPH BALKIE of Cincinnati is to marry Miss Troutman of Eminence in November.

JOHN H. KING and Miss Eddie E. Welsh of Aberdeen will be married on the 28th inst.

One child in every five in the Northern half of the United States dies before it has lived a year.

TATE STANDARD WAGON COMPANY has been incorporated at Covington with a capital of $700,000.

HOWARD MORGAN, a ten-year-old, fell forty feet from a house at Norwood, O., and was killed.

OUT of 83,329 persons imprisoned in the United States, 1,000 were criminals last year, 7,357 were murderers.

The next convention of the National Republican League will be held in Louisville on the second Wednesday in May.

THOMAS H. WATTS, once Governor of Alabama and Attorney General in the Confederate Cabinet, is dead at Monte gomey.

It takes 15,000,000 words of telegraph to tell the story of a National convention to the different daily papers of the country.

GEOFFREY W. POLLITT and Miss Eva Clinger of this city will be married to-morrow evening at 6:30 at the Christian Church.

FRANK BOYAN of the county and Miss Lottie Jones of this city were married Saturday night at the Clerk's office by Judge Parker.

A man's hardware establishment in Covington was broken into and about $200 worth of the best pistols, razors and silverware taken.

The marriage of Julian P. Lewis and Miss Florence B. Peck is announced to take place on September 17th at the home of the bride's parents in Dover.

COLEMAN BROWN has bought the pool room business of Mark Smith, at Covington, and will continue it under his "at home" to his friends there in future.

The Board of Commissioners of Covington has taken steps to improve the sanitary condition of the town and has ordered a thorough cleaning up. This being one of the state's leading growth centers, it is to be hoped that other sections will follow.

JONAH HILL of Aberdeen, while stand on a trestle of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad at Catlettsburg, was struck by a passenger train and hurled into the creek bed, thus causing his death. He sustained a broken thigh and other serious injuries which may prove fatal.

Mrs. FRANK ALEXANDER, an eighty year-old bride of less than a year, wants the courts of Rochester, N. Y., to grant her a separation from her young old husband. The wealthy admirer of Mrs. Alexander—about $50,000—but the prudence with which she preserved it from her husband to trouble between them.

FOUR wealthy citizens of Winnipeg, Manitoba, have started out on the long-distance trip to Europe. Their destination is Jacksonville, Fla., a distance of 2,600 miles. After spending the winter in Florida, the party will early in the summer drive to Jacksonville, to Chicago, and, after taking in the World's Fair, return to Winnipeg.

HARRY V. MARTIN of Huntington, Marion county, was arrested on the charge of having forged T. T. Waldron, chairman of the board of directors of the Franklin Typewriter Company, and the Franklin Typewriter Company, the capital stock will be $100,000, of which $50,000 is now paid in. At present $100,000 has been taken out and next week $500,000 of this will be offered to the public, and the balance will be given to the Franklin Typewriter Company.

THE FRANK ALEXANDER, an eighty year-old bride of less than a year, wants the courts of Rochester, N. Y., to grant her a separation from her young old husband. The wealthy admirer of Mrs. Alexander—about $50,000—but the prudence with which she preserved it from her husband to trouble between them.

FOUR wealthy citizens of Winnipeg, Manitoba, have started out on the long-distance trip to Europe. Their destination is Jacksonville, Fla., a distance of 2,600 miles.

After spending the winter in Florida, the party will early in the summer drive to Jacksonville, to Chicago, and, after taking in the World's Fair, return to Winnipeg.

HARRY V. MARTIN of Huntington, Marion county, was arrested on the charge of having forged T. T. Waldron, chairman of the board of directors of the Franklin Typewriter Company, and the Franklin Typewriter Company, the capital stock will be $100,000, of which $50,000 is now paid in. At present $100,000 has been taken out and next week $500,000 of this will be offered to the public, and the balance will be given to the Franklin Typewriter Company.

In Time of Peace Prepare for War.

Have you ever thought what you would do if you were some one of the fama-liy, cholera morbus, dysentery or diarrhea? In such cases it is not unusual for fatal results to follow. The author of this article is a physician whom there is nothing that will give permanent relief so quickly as Chamberlain's Colic Chloral and Diarrhoea Remedy. It never fails in cases of colic, diarrhea, dysentery or cholera. Why not keep it at hand?
25 and 50 cent bottles for sale
by Power & Reynolds, Druggists.

Miracles in Trade.

The easiest way to eat an orange is from a fork, but, is the skin and its coarse white lining are peeled off with a sharp fruit knife, the orange is stuck on a fork and eaten like one meal. In "Side Talks With Girls" in the September issue of Home Journal, it is said that "I can't eat an orange with a knife." But, I can't eat an orange with a fork either. There is nothing that will give permanent relief so quickly as Chamberlain's Colic Chloral and Diarrhoea Remedy. It never fails in cases of colic, diarrhea, dysentery or cholera. Why not keep it at hand?

Artichokes, of course, eaten with the fingers, each leaf being dipped in the dressing.

FREE FROM CHOLERA.

New York's Health Board Reports No New Suspects Discovered.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The board of health issued a bulletin Sunday afternoon in which it was stated that no new case of cholera had been discovered since the last bulletin, and no deaths from cholera had occurred since Tuesday.

They report that there is no reason to believe the diagnosis of the attending physician in the case of Peter Hallahan, a suspected case of cholera, to be accurate, in that the death was due to diarrhea and exhaustion.

The report of the bacteriologists as to the case of Mary Conerty, a suspected cholera case, is to the effect that no virulent cholera has been discovered.

Major Grant, Superintendent Byrnes, President Martin, of the police board, and Dock Commissioner J. George Crane went down the bay yesterday afternoon on the police boat patrol.

Upon the same boat were joined by Health Officer Jenkins, and the party proceeded to lower quarantine and Camp Low at Sandy Hook.

FIRST APPELLATE DISTRICT.

Republican Convention Called to Meet at Ashland on September 22d.

To the Republicans of the First Appellate Court District election law has required it necessary for the Executive Committee of the First Appellate Court District of Kentucky hereby declares that a convention of the Republicans of the First Appellate Court District will be held at the rooms of the Bell, Bell, Breathitt, Carpenter, Clark, Cox, Estill, Fife, Floyd, Johnson, Knott, Laurel, Lester, Leslie, Lewis, Lawrence, Madison, Mason, Menifee, Morgan, Nicholas, Owen, Powell, Robertson, Rockcastle, Rowan and Wolfe will be held in the city of Ashland, Ky., on Thursday, September 22nd, 1864, at 10 o'clock A.M. for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnestly requested to call and hold a County Convention in due time to select delegates to said convention at the time and place.

The basis of representation from each county shall be one delegate for each county and one alternate for each section from each county to be sent for the purpose of nominating a candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Chairman of the Republican Committee of the First Appellate Court District earnest